Grayling Fire Department News

Weekly meeting of July 28th was called to order by Chief Middle Lamotte at 7:30 p. m. We went through four more business places, being: Gierke's Service Station, the Black and White, Parson's & Lamm, and Vince's Shell Service. After this we checked the air in all the tires on the fire trucks and returned to the fire hall.

Back at the fire hall the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

During this past week the fire department had some luck. The Welsh Motor Sales has donated three complete flashing lights to the department. These flashing lights will also be installed by the Welsh Motor Sales. The fire department would like to thank the Welsh Motor Sales for these lights as they are very much appreciated.

The department would also appreciate it very much if any other business man would like to donate a light or so, as Welsh's have done.

Our meeting was adjourned at 8:30 p. m. Fourteen members were present.

CONGRESSMAN CHARLES E. POTTER

FOR THE UNITED STATES SENATE

Republican Nomination, August 5

★ FARM BORN, at Lapeer, "Chuck" Potter was educated there. Worked way through Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti. Young executive and administrator at Cheboygan, where he made his home, before going off to war as private.

★ FIGHTER, was the name Potter won when he went overseas after earning his commission with famed 28th Division. Won battlefield promotion for heroic troop combat leadership. Lost both legs in enemy land mine explosion while leading midnight attack in Germany.

★ U. S. CONGRESSMAN was office to which he was elected by friends and neighbors of Michigan's 11th District, shortly after return home. They have sent him back to Congress each election since, now are conducting his campaign for U. S. Senate, sharing him with Michigan.

★ BATTLES REDS has been the headline about Potter ever since he was elected to House Un-American Activities Committee by fellow Congressmen. He trapped Hollywood Communists, uncovered international Sorge spy ring, ferreted out Communists in American industrial cities.

★ OUTSTANDING was honor conferred upon Potter. U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce voted him title of "One of the ten outstanding young men in United States." Other awards: "Veteran of Year," "Civic Service of Year."

★ TRADITION in Michigan is that Republicans send to the Senate only men who will measure up to highest standards of statesmanship. Potter has already proved himself in the Michigan tradition, exemplifying the best in brilliant, mature young men in Government.

A Duty And Privilege

Next Tuesday, it is up to each and every one of us to exercise a duty and privilege that is becoming rarer and rarer in this world of ours, and that is to go to the polls and cast your ballot in the primary election for the men who you feel could most ably represent us.

It makes no difference how you vote — that is the privilege part of this one phase of American life. The duty part is that to obtain a real feeling of the people of Michigan or the United States it certainly is necessary that everyone casts his ballot.

The record that the voters of this country have written on the slate of history over the past ten years is a sorry one indeed. About one half of those eligible exercised their right to vote, the right for which men have given their lives for centuries to obtain.

Here in Crawford County a very small one as far as votes are concerned, let us at least write upon our portion of the slate a high percentage in those voting. Regardless of the difficulties that seem to combine to keep you from balloting, aspire above and beyond them, to take that few minutes to have your say about who will run for what office in this fall's election.

The primary election in August and the coming election in November, without a doubt, will make a terrific impact upon American life, regardless of which candidates are elected. Anyone reading the newspapers, listening to radio, viewing television or perusing magazines knows the issues that are at stake. It is not necessary for an editorial writer to try to explain to you what these two elections mean to the average American, his family, his job or business or his way of life. Think well, think hard, argue the points over in your own mind and reach a conclusion that is not biased by the haranguing of candidates or the ideas of friends, neighbors or relatives. Vote as you see it, not as you are told. This is America in action.

Social Security Moves Upwards On October 1

About 150 people in Crawford County will receive higher social security payments beginning early in October as a result of the social security amendments which President Truman signed into law last Friday.

William E. LaRock, manager of the Traverse City social security office, emphasized that no one needs to apply for the increased payments. "The Social Security Administration is already changing the amounts," he pointed out. "We expect to get them changed in time to have them in the mail October 3, the regular delivery date, but if in a few cases we don't meet the schedule, we'll send the regular check and make up the difference in a later check."

Mr. LaRock pointed out that although nearly every family receiving payments would receive an increase, the additional amount would not always be divided among all members of the family receiving monthly checks. In some cases, the entire increase will go to the retired worker.

Amount of the increase for a retired worker will range from $5 to $8.60, with the average about $3.50. When several members of a family are receiving payments, the total increase to the family can be as much as $18.90. A few benefits now being paid, and most of those payable in the future, will be based on earnings after 1950 instead of after 1936. The amended law provides a new formula for determining the amount of the payments in these cases. Under it, a retired worker's monthly benefit would be 55% of the first $100 of his average monthly earnings plus 15% of the remainder up to $300.

Beginning September 1, the new law increased to $75 a month instead of $50 the amount of money a beneficiary may earn and still receive the monthly benefits. Self employed people entitled to old-age and survivors insurance benefits may receive the payments for each month of the year if their net earnings during the entire year are not over $900.

The amended law contains a provision of special importance to self-employed people who have retired or plan to retire during 1952. Before the passage of the amendments their earnings for the year in which application was made could not be used to figure their old-age benefit payments. Now those self-employed people who originally applied for benefits in 1952 may re-apply at the close of the taxable year and have their 1952 earnings used in figuring their monthly benefit payments. In general, this will increase the monthly benefit payment to self-employed persons.

A similar change in the law now permits insured wage earners who retire in 1952 to have their wages for this year used immediately in figuring the amount of their benefit payments. Previously, it was necessary for them to come back after the end of the year in order to have all of their covered wages for 1952 included in the computation of the benefit amount.

UNBOSSSED

Why Republicans Should Nominate Fred M. Alger for Governor

He is unbossed. Best proof of this is the fact that one-time bosses in control of the party organization, seeking to regain power, are doing their best to defeat him.

He has an outstanding record of economy and administrative efficiency compiled during his three terms as Secretary of State. Records show his department handled a 40 per cent increase in workload, while at the same time reducing personnel by 7 per cent.

He believes the solution of Michigan's fiscal problems lies not in new taxes, but in cutting the cost of government.

He stands the best show of winning next November because he is the best votegetter in the Republican party, as proven by the returns of the 1950 election, in which he polled more votes than any candidate on either ticket.

Fred M. Alger

Alger became an enthusiastic Eisenhower for president supporter more than a year ago, when the two met and talked over the country's needs, seeing eye to eye.

Alger was the first state official, and the only candidate for governor to endorse Eisenhower. He was criticized for doing so. It wasn't good politics. Good politics dictated that he ride the fence. He wouldn't because he believes the people should know where a candidate for office stands.

The Eisenhower-Alger combination is a natural. Both are agreed that the Nation's defense comes first.

Both have proven themselves good and able administrators, Ike in the European zone, Alger as an efficient, economy-minded, three-term Secretary of State.

Both are full-time veterans of World War II.

Both have records bespeaking unalterable hatred of dictatorship, Ike in arming the western world against Stalinist aggression; Alger as leader of the movement which ended machine rule of the Republican Party of Michigan.

They understand each other.

U.S. SENATOR

N. C. To Exhibit
Ripley Collection

Robert Ripley's personal collection of "Believe It or Not" oddities being exhibited on national tour under auspices of the Navy Club U.S.A., will be presented in Grayling, Michigan on Wednesday, July 30, 1952.

Believe It or Not cartoons have been appearing in newspapers throughout the world for years. On display in this exhibit will be some of the original drawings picturing facts which many found difficult to believe. The greater portion of the exhibit features part of Ripley's amazing collection of the authentic original subjects on which the cartoons are based. Every item is selected from the unusual assortment of strange things which Mr. Ripley spared no effort or expense to unearth during his endless explorations of all parts of the world.

The mobile exhibit is mounted in a special custom-built trailer, featuring an amazing collection of crowns, tiaras, scepters, maces and other valuables of the most famous royalty and nobility of all times. In addition to this spectacular display, there are many curious items from faraway lands with strange customs, like the Flute of Death and the Sacrificial Dagger, both carved from human bones for mystic ceremonial rites.

Included in this exhibit are mysterious oddities and wonders of every age and every part of the world. There is a skull drum from Africa, a butterfly that lived in the heart of a tree, a knife that cuts steel, the medieval torture instrument called "spike Crown," a Tibet horn that blows a blast for seven miles, and many other items.

Location of the showing will be on Cedar St. at Michigan Ave. Admission is free, and the exhibit will be open to the public from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Any funds raised through voluntary donations will be used by the National Headquarters and the local ships of Navy Club of USA, to assist them in carrying on their services to veterans.

Your Milk
What does the balance sheet show about our wild deer herd? It is true, that in the rural areas they do some damage to gardens and growing crops. But did you ever notice the tourists that come from the large cities and states south of us and what pleasure and enjoyment they get as they ride around toward evening when the deer come out to feed, especially the youngsters. Their descriptions carry more words about deer than any political speech. Then comes hunting season in November, bringing with it the day before season a human beehive in red uniforms, that packs our business places. They are men and women from every walk of life. A few take on too much fire water and shouldn't be in the woods with a high-powered rifle. Some try to cheat the law, thus cheating themselves of good sportsmanship. That's what makes rules and game worthwhile. If we want life at it's best, we must keep our health at its best. Order Crawford County produced milk. It will help you to the best health. Sold at Hunter's AuSable Dairy in Grayling.

God's Invasion Army To Visit Frederic

A team of six members of God's Invasion Army will visit Frederic, August 4-10. They will be the guests of the First Baptist Church Frederic, Michigan. Pastor E. K. Huddleston of Frederic will be the host pastor.

God's Invasion Army is made up of 54 young men and women from various parts of the United States and Canada who have volunteered a year of service, without salary, in the national program of evangelism of the Baptist General Conference of America.

The program of activities at the First Baptist Church will include boys and girls meetings in the afternoon of August 5-8 at 4:00 p. m. There will also be evening meetings to which the public is invited on Wednesday, August 6, and Friday, August 8 at 8:00 p. m. Special music will be rendered and testimonials given by the God's Invasion Army team.

All members of the group are lay workers except their director the Rev. Edward Nelson of Chicago, Illinois, director of evangelism of the Baptist Conference. These men and women ranging from 18-35 years of age, have responded to a challenge, to give a year of their lives for definite Christian service. They are guaranteed only food and lodging for the 12 months that are spent in this service. They have left their regular employment for the year, to devote themselves to this work.

The work of this group has been recognized by many denominations as a pioneering venture in an attempt to make vital religion understandable to the average man.

Rev. Nelson, the director says, "There is a growing conviction in many religions, and even political circles, that we are seeing alarming evidence of a moral recession in America which needs immediate and drastic attention. Crime, gangsterism, political alignment with the lower elements of society, increased drunkenness, and dope addiction amongst the youth of our land, as well as the general apathy toward Christianity, indicate an inner decay in our country that cannot be ignored.

"We must realize that we are faced with enemies of our way of life who are armed with ideological weapons more dangerous than those forged of iron. Only as we have vital spiritual convictions can we as a people hope to cope with the threatening materialistic philosophies of our day."

LAMPREY PROGRESS REPORT

Bad days are ahead for the Sea Lamprey in the Great Lakes. This blood-sucking destroyer of our most highly prized sports and food fish is losing its battle with man—its sole enemy. Scientists from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service are waging war on a big scale, anticipating adequate financing following President Truman's recent signature to a bill appropriating $44,000 to finance the project.

Where will the war be fought? All along the shores of the Great Lakes, in streams and rivers identified as sea lamprey spawning grounds after seven years of careful observation.

1952 Spawning Run Ended

July marks the end of the lamprey spawning period, and biologists say the run in Lake Huron is about the same as last year—a little higher in Lake Michigan and Lake Superior. Electric fences and traps have established the count on selected representative streams used for spawning, of which more than 200 have been designated throughout the entire Great Lakes. Before control of the lamprey can be expected all of the 200 streams must be blocked off from the spawning predator and this is going to take time and money.

Canadian Streams Problem

Along the north shore of Lake Superior sea lamprey have discovered suitable spawning areas almost inaccessible to man. These must be reached. Camps must be established. Electric fences must be constructed and installed in time for the start of the spawning run in April. Generators and heavy equipment must be delivered to the spot—a big job that requires plenty of cooperation from the Canadian Government.

Electric Fence Nears Perfection

A simple electric fence consisting of pipe laid across the bottom of the stream and dangling metal electrodes suspended above creates a lethal field in the water thru which the lampreys cannot pass. Inasmuch as they can spawn only in a stream, and die after spawning or attempting to spawn, the blocking of these streams is a perfect control method. The fence installation may cost around $2,000 for each stream, according to recent estimates.

Lake Superior First Battle Line

In an all-out effort to save all that remains of Michigan's lake trout population—the Fish & Wildlife Service will concentrate on fencing off 22 streams emptying into Lake Superior on the Michigan shore. The work is expected to be finished by next spring in time to meet the spawning onslaught of countless thousands of sea lampreys—vicious vampire of the Great Lakes.

Crawford County Library Michigan Work Shop for Librarians

Seventy-four librarians from many places over the state were at Higgins Lake at the Conservation Training School from July 21-25 for one of their annual Workshops. With twelve members of the staff from Lansing State Library and outstanding librarians of other places. Mr. Herold Newman of Kalamazoo, recreational director, was there to help us with fun and singing after meals, and after the lectures at night, there were folk-games and square dancing.

A note of high resolve and seriousness of purpose was struck Monday afternoon when Miss Eudocia Stratton, of the extension division of the State Library of Lansing, gave the opening message, and it seemed her theme was "More and Better Books for Every Citizen of Michigan." As each librarian rose and gave her name, where she was from, and something about her library, the theme became the meaningful key-note of the entire week.

Many of the librarians told of improvements of their libraries. Some were new buildings, many had plans for improvements. The results of former work-shops shows results in the great interest of the librarians in the courses offered by the staff. These work-shops for librarians are sponsored by the State Board for Libraries and are held in four different places in the state. This is the eleventh year they have had these work-shops.

Each librarian selected the classes she thought would be the most helpful in her library. Mrs. Ella Funk, local librarian, was in the following classes, "Notable Books in 1952 Exhibits," "Editions, Reprints and Rebounds," "With Childrens Books in 1952" and two classes in "More About Books and Book Reviews." There were lectures each night, two of them by conservation men and with a movie on "Resources and Conservation."

Wednesday afternoon the entire group visited two local libraries. The Grayling Public Library, and the Crawford County Library. This was the first time the group of librarians had visited local libraries. There was praise for each of the visited libraries for what the library board and librarian had accomplished; their book selection, and arrangement in the small place we have, and neatness.

On Friday morning, Mrs. Loleta D. Egan, State Librarian, Miss Thumb of Gaylord, and Mrs. Funk of Grayling, formed a panel to tell more about the libraries visited and to answer questions. We were asked to tell how our library board was appointed, how they obtained finances, and talk about our advantages and disadvantages. Librarians have much in common. Usually they are short of space, and shelf-room, short of help and short on finances. The Grayling Library is a city library supported by the city and receives State Aid. The board is appointed and are all women. The board is very active and help the librarian in many ways. It has a beautiful room on the second floor of the municipal building. This is a fine location. It has one wall all windows. Most of the furniture is painted on color.

Grayling has a county library supported by the City and by the County but we do not receive state aid as we have not as yet been able to obtain 3/10 of a mill in local support which is one of the requirements for a county library with a population of 4,000 or over, to become a standard Class II library. However, we do get the penal fines lately, and again this year we will get the fine moneys. We had complaints on our arrangement, book selection, furniture, the way we have made use of all the space we have, and neatness.

It was a very successful work-shop. Each librarian seemed to go home, rested from the regular routine and inspired by what she hopes to accomplish.

Mrs. Ella Funk, Librarian.

Seasonal plowing is not confined to the farm. Fighting a forest fire two ways with a tractor-tanker plow unit is a conservation department fireman.
